LIVE, ONLINE AND IN-PERSON EVENTS

KQED LIVE

Our New Events Series Launches!

KQED Live events bring journalism to life onstage, amplify local culture and build community. Get informed about critical local issues, inspired by vivid expressions of creativity and civic imagination, and involved in collectively envisioning a better Bay Area. KQED Live events are hosted in our newly reimagined San Francisco headquarters and will also be available online. To learn more, see page 5; for ticket information, go to kqed.org/live. Prices and events are subject to change.

OCTOBER LINEUP

Speaker of the House Nancy Pelosi

Wednesday, October 13, 7pm, $20

Nancy Pelosi joins the hosts of KQED's Political Breakdown in conversation about her long career in Congress — and more.

Dear Homeland with Diana Gameros

Friday, October 15, 7pm, $15

Singer Diana Gameros shares her story as a formerly undocumented artist on a journey home through the music and screening of the KQED Dear Homeland documentary.

Amy Tan & Michael Krasny

Monday, October 18, 7pm, $10

Literary icon Amy Tan joins KQED veteran Michael Krasny for a conversation on how personal and cultural histories fuse with imagination in her writing.

Understanding Police Misconduct Records with On Our Watch

Wednesday, October 20, 7:30pm, free

Take a look into the project that led to the On Our Watch podcasts and discover how journalists, activists and the public can access public records to uncover police misconduct.

Chef Bryant Terry

Thursday, October 21, 7pm, $15

Chef Bryant Terry talks food justice, shifts in culinary media and his vegan chef philosophy (features an interactive tasting).

Creepy, Crawly Night with Deep Look

Wednesday, October 27, 7pm, $10; kids free

A Halloween screening with KQED's wildlife series about the very small and often unseen. Meet some creepy, crawly creatures and the scientists and team behind the show.

Chilling Histories of California

Thursday, October 28, 7pm, $10

Understand the Golden State through the ghosts of its past with a night of haunting and curious tales from forgotten corners of California (features an interactive tasting).

KQED PARTNER EVENTS

KQED Live, Our Dynamic New Events Series, Is Here!

Bringing journalism to life on stage, amplifying local culture and building community in person and via streaming experiences is what KQED Live, our groundbreaking new event series, is all about. Through thoughtful dialogue and compelling performances, screenings, food experiences, children's events, live storytelling and behind-the-scenes radio and podcast show productions onstage, the new series extends the coverage and programming of KQED and its PBS and NPR national partners. And it offers meaningful opportunities to bring together journalists, cultural luminaries and the local communities we serve.

There's a lot to look forward to: KQED Live will present 60 to 80 events annually in The Commons, a 238-seat multipurpose theater at KQED's 2601 Mariposa Street headquarters in San Francisco's Mission District. Produced on a stage outfitted with state-of-the-art digital video and broadcast production facilities, most KQED Live events will offer tickets for live-streaming access for guests who would like to attend from home.

Please note: Proof of full COVID-19 vaccination is required for entry. Attendees will be required to wear face masks in compliance with local public health guidelines at the time of the event.

Here's what's happening in October. For more details and for tickets, go to kqed.org/live.

RADIO

Shows We Love: Freakonomics Radio

Does your name determine your future? Why are people attracted to bad news? What creates happiness? How do you calculate the value of a life? Did any of these questions pique your interest? If yes, don't miss Freakonomics Radio. This fascinating show began as a spinoff of the bestselling 2009 book of the same name written by economist Steven Levitt and journalist Stephen Dubner, who hosts the radio show. The book delved into seemingly random questions that ultimately revealed fascinating insights into human nature and its impacts on society and economics, which the authors argue is actually the "study of incentives." When the book went on to sell millions of copies, Levitt and Dubner decided to continue the conversation in their weekly radio show, investigating even more questions at the intersection of socioeconomics, psychology, philosophy and culture through research and discussion with experts and others. They may not always have the answers, but the show will get you thinking and will challenge you to question what you think you know. Tune in to Freakonomics Radio on Saturdays at 3pm on KQED FM, with a rebroadcast the next morning at 2am.

PODCASTS

What are the best podcasts to listen to right now?
We asked KQED Live Events Producer Sarah Rose Leonard. Here are her picks.

STARTER EPISODE

"Aceptamos Bitcoin": la nueva moneda de El Salvador

El Hilo is my favorite Spanish-language podcast for getting an in-depth look at current events. This episode explains how and why Bitcoin is now accepted in El Salvador. You read that right! The reporting in this episode is excellent, offering much-needed political context.

STARTER EPISODE

How We Got Here, Part 1: The 'Great Risk Shift' from Companies to Workers

This KQED series about labor is defined by a strong point of view that is rooted in informed, thorough reporting and is laced with intricate sound design. The dive into labor history helps show where the fault lines in our systems came from. I don't know how reporter Sam Harnett made our labor crisis entertaining, but I couldn't stop listening.

MEN, Season 3, Episode 1: "Dick Move"

I thought Scene on Radio couldn't top its excellent season exploring whiteness in America, but their third season on sexism, patriarchy and misogyny only confirmed that they create some of the best investigative reporting podcasts around. I always feel like I read a good book after I finish an episode; a favorite feeling.

Don't Miss This

Baptiste on Masterpiece, Season 2

At the end of Season 1, we left Julien Baptiste coping with the devastating events of his last case. Now he has to face his most complex mystery yet. In Hungary, a British ambassador's family goes missing, and Baptiste must navigate through an untrustworthy Hungarian police force and international media interest to find them. Fiona Shaw (Killing Eve) plays British Ambassador Emma Chambers and Tchéky Karyo returns as the beloved retired French detective. Don't miss seeing how the mystery unravels. All six episodes from Season 2 will be available on KQED Passport beginning October 17, the night of its broadcast premiere. ## American Masters' Presents 'Rita Moreno: Just a Girl Who Decided to Go for It'

I first fell in love with Rita Moreno's acting, singing and dancing when I saw her playing Anita in West Side Story. Sassy and smart as Maria's best friend, she was — and still is — spectacularly talented. She won an Academy Award for that role, yet even after that the Hollywood studios offered her parts as stereotypical ethnic minorities. She faced rampant racism, sexism and sexual abuse, but fought back, working for Latinx representation across genres as a performer and activist.

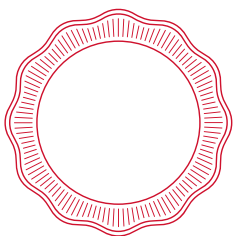

Throughout her 70-plus-year career, Moreno has appeared in more than 40 feature films, many television shows (including a recent remake of One Day at a Time) and has performed in regional theater, including her one-woman show Life Without Makeup at Berkeley Rep.

American Masters' Rita Moreno: Just a Girl Who Decided to Go for It explores her many achievements, but also looks at her lesser-known struggles, including her toxic relationship with Marlon Brando. Executive-produced by Norman Lear and Lin-Manuel Miranda, the doc includes interviews with Morgan Freeman, Whoopi Goldberg and others; clips of her iconic roles and current work; and more. It airs on Tuesday, October 5, at 9pm on KQED 9, and will stream on KQED Passport the same day as broadcast. —Ellyn Hament

DID YOU KNOW?

- Moreno was the first Latina actress to win an Academy Award for West Side Story.
- Moreno was the third person ever to attain "PEGOT" status having won a Peabody (2019 — she was the first Latina to receive this award); an Emmy (1977, 1978); a Grammy (1972); an Oscar (1962) and a Tony (1975).
- She went out with Elvis Presley to make Marlon Brando, whom she was dating, jealous.

COMING IN NOVEMBER

Great Performances: Coppélia!

Check your November issue for dates and times

Considered by some to be one of the greatest comic ballets of the 19th century, Coppélia! is the story of a romance between two villagers and the curious workings of their mad inventor neighbor: Dr. Coppélius. This production is performed by the New York City Ballet.

OCTOBER PICK

Nature: My Garden of a Thousand Bees

Wednesday, October 20, at 8pm on KQED 9

During the COVID-19 lockdown, a British wildlife cameraman turned his lens on his own urban landscape, exploring the bees in his garden. In the process, he discovered diverse species and bee personalities (yes, they have them) in his own backyard. It's a lovely deeper look at the world around us at a time when it was impossible to travel.

SATURDAY NIGHT MOVIE

The Manchurian Candidate

Saturday, October 23, at 8pm on KQED 9

In this classic 1962 espionage film, Raymond Shaw (Laurence Harvey) is a Korean War hero and former prisoner of war with a lethal secret: He's been brainwashed by communist China. With one phone call, Shaw will become a deadly assassin — unless fellow veteran Bennett Marco (Frank Sinatra) can stop him. It's a nail-biter all the way.

Alma's Way Premieres Monday, October 4, at 8am on KQED 9

Six-year old Alma Rivera, a proud, confident Puerto Rican girl, lives in the Bronx with her parents and younger brother and a diverse group of friends, family and community members. She's learning to think for herself, making mistakes and decisions and finding solutions along the way. Alma's Way premieres with two back-to-back half-hour episodes on Monday, October 4, then continues daily.

Fred Rogers Production.

SATURDAY NIGHT MOVIE Good Night, Good Luck Saturday, October 9, at 8pm on KQED 9

George Clooney's Oscar-nominated 2005 docudrama takes place in the 1950s during the McCarthy Era and the early days of television and follows Edward R. Murrow's clash with Senator Joseph McCarthy's crusade to quell the threat of communism in America. David Strathairn, Clooney, Jeff Daniels and other stars.

Interesting factoid: It was filmed on color film stock on a grayscale set and color-corrected to black and white during post-production.
