LIVE, ONLINE AND IN-PERSON EVENTS

KQED LIVE

Our Events Series

Get informed about critical local issues, inspired by vivid expressions of creativity and civic imagination and involved in collectively envisioning a better Bay Area. Prices and events are subject to change. KQED Live is sponsored by Asian Art Museum, Berkeley Repertory Theatre, Comcast Business and San Francisco Symphony.

For tickets, details and the latest updates on events, go to kqed.org/live.

DECEMBER LINEUP

Filipinx Arts Night with Ruby Ibarra & Balay Kreative

Thursday, December 1, at 7pm, in Person: $20, Livestream: Free

Rapper Ruby Ibarra joins a slate of artists from Balay Kreative — SoMa's Filipino arts hub — for an eclectic night of storytelling and performances, hosted by The Bay's Ericka Cruz Guevarra. Navigating a history of colonization and government corruption, Filipinos searching for economic opportunity put down roots in the Bay Area. Join us for this celebration of the local Filipino American experience, forged through music, writing and art.

Filipinx Arts Night

Miko Marks in Concert

Friday, December 16, at 7pm, in Person: $20

Named one of CMT's Next Women of Country in 2022, Miko Marks has taken the music industry by storm with a unique sound that deftly blends country, blues, southern rock and even gospel to create an experience that literally brings an audience to its feet. In this concert and interview with Rightnowish host Pendarvis Harshaw, the Bay Area-based Marks shows how she's forged her art and identity as a Black woman in the white- and male-dominated country music industry through multiple studio albums, including her latest Feel Like Going Home.

World Cup Viewing Party

Sunday, December 18, at 7am, in Person: Free

Goooooal! Rise before the sun to see your favorite futbolistas put everything on the line in the World Cup final. We're opening our lobby and firing up the big screen to watch the final match live from Qatar. Join us for a nail-biting, cheer-inducing (penalty-kicking?) good time. Bring your own food and drink or enjoy light refreshments and breakfast bites on us to get you through the morning.

KQED PARTNER EVENT

ICB Artists, Industrial Center Building, 480 Gate 5 Road, Sausalito

Saturday, December 3, to Sunday, December 4

Join art lovers from across the country for this once yearly event in Sausalito's historic ICB Building on Saturday, December 3, and Sunday, December 4, from 11am to 5pm. Under its dramatic curved roof with exposed beams and spectacular views of the San Francisco Bay, come see 100+ artists of every stripe — sculptors, abstract and figurative painters, photographers, fiber artists, jewelers and digital artists. The event and parking are both free. For more information, visit eventbrite.com/e/winter-open-studios-at-icb-sausalito-tickets-396621053247.

KQED MEMBER BENEFIT

Asian Art Museum, San Francisco

Kongkee: Warring States Cyberpunk at the Asian Art Museum, San Francisco
On view through January 23

Kongkee, an award-winning animation director and visual artist, takes us back to the future in an odyssey 2,000 years in the making. Explore an immersive animated futurist fantasy — part comic book, part motion picture — making its dazzling North American debut. Kongkee's Warring States Cyberpunk traces the legendary Chinese poet Qu Yuan's soul on a journey from the ancient Chu Kingdom to an imagined 21st century Asia of cyborgs, electro rock and surprising romantic reunions. KQED members receive a 20% discount by reserving tickets online using the code KQEDKONGKEE and showing their current KQED MemberCard on arrival. ## U.S. Supreme Court Sides with KQED on the Release of Historic Videotapes

In October, the U.S. Supreme Court paved the way for the release of videotapes from the 2009–2010 Proposition 8 trial that led to the legalization of same-sex marriage in California. The decision not to appeal it made by supporters of Prop. 8 came after a 12-year effort by KQED and its counsel, Thomas R. Burke, who argued for the release of the tapes, which document an important historical moment in the fight for LGBTQIA+ rights in California.

Prop. 8, which passed in 2008, banned same-sex marriage in California. The subsequent trial, Perry v. Schwarzenegger, questioned whether Prop. 8 violated the U.S. Constitution. Judge Vaughn Walker ruled in favor of the right to same-sex marriage, but said at the time that videotapes of the trial would remain sealed for ten years. As the court-ordered embargo on the tapes neared expiration, KQED filed a motion with the Ninth Circuit Court to unseal them. The motion was granted, then appealed by Prop. 8 proponents with the U.S. Supreme Court declining to take up the appeal.

The effort to make these historic tapes public was spearheaded by Scott Shafer, senior editor for KQED's politics and government desk and co-host of the Political Breakdown podcast. Shafer covered the Prop. 8 trial and subsequent contest over these tapes extensively for KQED. As KQED Chief Content Officer Holly Kernan noted, "If our systems work behind closed doors, with no press or public access, we have no idea how decisions are made, nor what arguments are leading to these decisions. KQED wants more sunlight on our legal system, and we will fight on behalf of the public to get that access."

Introducing KQED's New Digital MemberCard

Paper MemberCards have been used at KQED since forever, but now, if you have a smartphone, you have another option. Using your smartphone, you can download the KQED App (available at Apple's App Store or on Google Play), use the email address attached to your KQED account, click the person icon at the top right of the screen and you'll find your digital card. Need to update your email address or get a physical KQED MemberCard? Contact Member Services at kqed.org/memberhelp or call 415.553.2150, Monday through Friday, 9am–4:45pm.

Don't Miss This

La Otra Mirada, Season 2

I've just been loving the gorgeous new Walter Presents Spanish-language program La Otra Mirada. Season 1 follows Teresa as she flees scandal in Lisbon to teach at an all-girls boarding school in Seville. Season 2 continues the story, as both Teresa and her students continue to grow and gain independence — even as they struggle against societal expectations. Following their stories is such a delight, and I'm so happy that Passport members will get early access to all of Season 2 starting December 9, ahead of its broadcast premiere on December 15. If you want to catch up on old episodes, Season 1 is also available on Passport. —Emma Casley, KQED TV Programming Associate

Holiday Cheer

Mary Berry's Ultimate Christmas

Let Mary Berry guide you through the perfect Christmas dinner in her new special coming to KQED Passport on December 19. Sharing her definitive recipes perfected over 50 years, the program features lemon and herb roast turkey with all the trimmings, crispy roast potatoes, ruby red cabbage and apricot and chestnut stuffing.

Local Filmmaker

Ornament of the World

A stunning documentary from late local filmmaker Michael Schwarz chronicles how Muslims, Christians and Jews forged a common cultural identity across religious differences in medieval Spain — and reveals what ultimately tore it apart. The program airs on Sunday, December 25, on KQED 9, but is available to Passport members now.

RADIO SPECIAL

Night of Ideas

The last week of December may be the most liminal piece of time on the calendar. Ideas, questions and plans all seem to float in the air. This is an ideal time to revisit the Night of Ideas, which returned as an in-person event this year at KQED. The talks and performances explored the theme of "(Re)building Together: Where Are We Going?" There was plenty to consider: a lingering pandemic, threats to democracy and global conflicts. These are serious subjects, approached with a sense of optimism and resolve. We may not be able to say exactly where we're going, but we have an abundance of that most-precious cargo: ideas for getting there. Night of Ideas: (Re)building Together airs on Wednesday, December 28, at 10pm, with a repeat at 1am on Thursday morning. Listen on KQED Public Radio 88.5 FM or on the KQED streaming app. —Devin Holt, On-Air Digital Programming Assistant

Hail, Hail, Freedonia! Groucho and Cavett Star in a New American Masters Documentary

You, ahem, bet your life I was excited to learn that two greats are together in a new documentary: American Masters: Groucho & Cavett. Every time one of the Marx Brothers movies, or later Groucho's quiz show, flickered on television in my childhood home, channel surfing stopped. The king of witticisms, goofy songs and innuendo, Groucho always inspired groaning belly laughs. Then there's Cavett, who's now in his eighties, former host of The Dick Cavett Show. A comedy writer from Nebraska, educated at Yale, Cavett had a smart, low-key, take-no-bull style and often had guests you wouldn't see on other talk shows. In addition to Groucho, they included Janis Joplin, whom he clearly admired, and Georgia Gov. Lester Maddow, who stormed off the stage in an argument over bigotry.

Who knew that Groucho and Cavett were pals — or the story behind and extent of their friendship? In this documentary, Cavett takes a look back on their friendship using clips from the show and rare recordings. Fun and fascinating with a few cringeworthy moments, it's well worth a watch if you're a fan or want to know more about these two. American Masters: Groucho & Cavett airs on Tuesday, December 27, at 8pm on KQED 9.

DID YOU KNOW? Late-Night Talk Shows

- No, it wasn't Joan Rivers: Stage and film actress Faye Emerson is widely believed to be the first woman to host a late-night talk show, The Faye Emerson Show, in 1949.
- Arsenio Hall was the first Black person to host a late-night talk show, The Arsenio Hall Show (1989), which attracted a young, diverse MTV-generation audience.
- In 1972, Johnny Carson moved The Tonight Show from New York to California. The move is considered instrumental in shifting the television industry's power to Los Angeles.

COMING IN JANUARY

Finding Your Roots, Season 9

Premieres January 3

Meet some of the people who populate the family trees of Jim Acosta, Carol Burnett, Angela Davis, Cyndi Lauper and others in a new season of Finding Your Roots. Henry Louis Gates Jr. uses genealogical detective work and cutting-edge DNA analysis to uncover long-buried and often surprising stories.

DECEMBER PICK

United in Song: Ringing in the New Year Together

Saturday, December 31, at 8:05pm on KQED 9

Welcome the new year and celebrate the extraordinary cultural diversity of our country through music: from Broadway to hip hop, folk, rock, opera, country and bluegrass. The performances, filmed throughout the United States, will reflect on what brings us together and on uniting us through art.

Nouveau Productions, LLC.

SATURDAY NIGHT MOVIE

On the Town

Saturday, December 10, at 8pm on KQED 9

In this classic film from 1949, fun-loving sailors Gabey (Gene Kelly), Chip (Frank Sinatra) and Ozzie (Jules Munshin) have 24 hours of shore leave in New York City and they want to make every second count. There's dancing, romance and great scenes of the city. And the score is part of the American songbook: Leonard Bernstein wrote the music with lyrics by Betty Comden and Adolph Green.
